

ICEBERGS

I solated and invincible ocean giants,

C hanging frantically like a running river,

E ndlessly enchanting like a mythical monster,

B looming like the polar landscape,

E legantly drifting through a frozen land,

R oaming slowly through the lonely ocean,

G hostly white with a tint of sapphire blue,

S harp and alone like the crescent moon.

By Mirryn